1 . Main points

- Overall retail footfall increased by 1% in the week to 25 May 2025, compared with the previous week, and when compared with the equivalent week of 2024; increases were also seen across high streets (1%) and shopping centres (2%), while retail parks remained broadly unchanged, compared with the previous week (MRI OnLocation).
- Total Revolut debit card spending decreased by 1% in the week to 18 May 2025, compared with the previous week, but increased by 10% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024 (Revolut).
- In late May 2025, 13% of trading businesses with 10 or more employees reported that they experienced an impact from the United States tariffs in the previous month; this is less than the 17% that expected to be impacted by the tariffs when asked in late April 2025 (initial results from Wave 133 of the Business Insights and Conditions Survey).
- The System Price of electricity decreased by 21% in the week to 25 May 2025 compared with the previous week, and decreased by 22% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024; the System Average Price (SAP) of gas increased by 6% in the week to 25 May 2025, compared with both the previous week and with the equivalent week of 2024 (Elexon, National Gas Transmission).
- The seasonally adjusted number of daily UK flights was broadly unchanged in the week to 25 May 2025 compared with the previous week, but increased by 5% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024 (EUROCONTROL).
- The total number of ship visits to major UK ports was broadly unchanged in the week to 25 May 2025 compared with the previous week, but decreased by 5% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024; for cargo and tanker ships, it decreased by 2% in the week to 25 May 2025 and by 1% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024 (exactEarth).
- The total number of Energy Performance Building Certificates (EPCs) decreased by 6% for new dwellings but increased by 30% for existing dwellings, in the week to 25 May 2025 compared with the previous week; total EPCs decreased by 5% for new dwellings and increased by 47% for existing dwellings when compared with the equivalent week of 2024 (Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government).

These are official statistics in development, and we advise caution when using the data. The data sources used to compile these indicators are regularly reviewed to ensure they are representative and relevant, which may mean indicators change at short notice. Read more in Section 5: Data sources and quality.

2 . Latest indicators at a glance

Notes

1. Card spending over time is pushed upwards by the impact of inflation on value of transactions and cash-to-card conversion.
2. Revolut adjustments to user count are at an aggregate level and as such age bands may not adjust evenly.
3. Indicators with "SA" in the title have been seasonally adjusted.

4 . Glossary

Real-time indicator

A real-time indicator provides insights into economic activity using close-to-real-time big data, administrative data sources, rapid response surveys or experimental estimates, which represent useful economic and social concepts.

Seasonal adjustment

Seasonal adjustment is the identification and removal of consistent and systematic variation in time series associated with the time of year. For more information on seasonal variation, and how we implement seasonal adjustment, see Section 2 of our Economic activity and social change in the UK, real-time indicators methodology article.

5 . Data sources and quality

Official statistics in development

These statistics are labelled as official statistics in development. Until September 2023, these were called "experimental statistics". Read more about the change in our Guide to official statistics in development.

We are developing how we collect and produce the data to improve the quality of these statistics. Find out more in our Economic activity and social change in the UK, real-time indicators methodology article.

Once the developments are complete, we will review the statistics with the Statistics Head of Profession. We will decide if the statistics are of sufficient quality and value to be published as official statistics, or if further development is needed. Production may be stopped if they are not of sufficient quality or value. Users will be informed of the outcome and any changes.

We value your feedback on these statistics. If you would like to get in touch, please email realtime.indicators@ons.gov.uk.

Dataset release dates and intended release frequency

Latest release dates and intended release frequency of our associated datasets are available in this section. Please note that there may be some change to the intended release frequency for a variety of reasons, such as data availability. If you would like further information about any of these datasets, or previous release dates, please email realtime.indicators@ons.gov.uk.

Strengths and limitations

These statistics have been produced to provide timely indicators of the effect of developing world events on the UK economy and society. We use close-to-real-time big data, administrative data sources, rapid response surveys, or official statistics in development.

The data presented in this bulletin are reviewed and refreshed on a regular basis. Indicators are swapped in and out of the publication based on their suitability and availability.

Seasonality

Seasonal fluctuations are likely to be present in many of these indicators, so caution must be applied when interpreting changes in series that are not seasonally adjusted.
